Projects

2023– ThoTDB: A database of the tonal languages of the world
Research engineer · INALCO — ERC project "Theory of Tone" https://thot.huma-num.fr/db
A linguistic typological database, part of the ERC advanced project "Theory of Tone". I took part in the database design — including the theoretical and sampling decisions — wrote all backend and frontend code, and deployed the service.

2020– Репозиторий открытых данных по русской литературе и фольклору: Repository of open data on Russian literature and folklore
Founder and chief editor · Institute of Russian Literature (Pushkin House), Russian Academy of Sciences https://dataverse.pushdom.ru
I came up with the idea, reached an agreement with the Institute of Russian Literature to host the project, deployed a Dataverse instance, and have served as the repository's chief editor since 2020.

2018– Detcorpus: A corpus of Russian prose for children
Founder and maintainer
http://detcorpus.ru
A searchable online corpus (NoSketchEngine-based) of 4000+ fictional and non-fictional works. It originated as a dataset for my own research and has grown into a general-purpose collection and an online service used by researchers, librarians and the wider public.

2009– Bambara Reference Corpus: An annotated online corpus of Bambara
Research engineer
http://cormand.huma-num.fr/
An annotated online corpus of Bambara. My role is the research engineer responsible for the whole IT infrastructure of the corpus, from data storage to administering the online search engine.
